This year we'll be learning about how to create a Wiki. We'll use this private site to showcase our writing, artwork and projects. Please give me your permission to set up and account for your child.

I will also be teaching the class about how to Podcast. We'll be Podcasting our favorite books in the form of book reviews, and we'll even share our published writing!

I would also like your permission to use your child's face (no name) on my website. Please consider giving permission for this. When children do not have permission, I will still use pictures that they are in, however, I will smudge their face so they are not recognizable.

- I give you permission for all the above things
- I give permission for the Wiki and Podcasts only

- I only give permission for you to use my child's face
